

Health Care Doesn't Have to Be Inconvenient

Meet All of Your Essential Health Care Needs at Home Through Northview Medical House Calls

When seeking health care services for yourself – or a loved one – it's a challenge to find consistent, quality care that works with all the other demands you face in life.

With Northview Medical Housecalls, you're able to meet this challenge as we bring you the personal and professional services you are looking for. . . right to your home.

No Need to Get to the Doctor

Just getting to the doctor can be a real problem for a growing number of patients today. This is especially true of our aging population as they find fewer friends and family members available to take them to appointments.

This presents a major concern, because it means that there are health issues that end up going unattended. As these issues are left uncared for, it increases the likelihood of more serious health problems to come – and even a trip to the emergency room or a hospital stay.

With Northview Medical House Calls, our staff is able to stay on top of health concerns as they present themselves, because making doctor visits is no longer an issue. We come to you – no matter what the weather.

While making our house calls, we evaluate our patients thoroughly and listen to them attentively, which puts us in a position to address health problems when they are less serious and easier to resolve.

House Calls Bring Added Benefits

At Northview Medical House Calls, we are equipped to provide all the essential services that you would expect to find in any doctor's office.

Most of these services we administer directly. These include anything from primary care visits for acute and chronic disease management to post-hospitalization or post-nursing facility visits, to wound care, to laboratory services – and much more.

Other services may be provided through one of our associated companies. This, for example, is how we handle x-rays.

Northview Medical House Calls, however, does more than bring the convenience of these services to your home.

We bring a holistic approach to health care that relieves much of the stress that goes along with receiving medical care.

If, for example, you need to see a specialist like a cardiologist, we'll make the arrangements and serve as your primary care physician.

If there is a need for medical equipment along the lines of a walker or hospital bed, we can help with the arrangements. We can assist in making connections, too, when the special services of a housekeeper or meals on wheels needs to be arranged.

With each visit we check patient medication bottles, and routinely write and renew prescriptions.

We also provide counsel regarding natural products and nutrition, and spiritual concerns as needed.

If you need help working with your insurance company or Medicare office, we will assist you with any contacts you need to make – and filling out the forms.

At Northview Medical House Calls, we strive to bring comprehensive support not only to individual patients, but to their family members and caregivers as well, making the total health care experience as positive as possible.

We even get along with pets!

We Make Health Care Easier

Getting the right health care can be an exhausting process. But we are here to make it easier for you.

Thanks to advances in communications and technology, we are able to bring the kind of primary health care services you expect, right to the home, in a way that spares any patient the inconveniences of traveling in the car when not feeling well, and waiting for a long time in a doctor's office.

We're also able to give you the kind of personal and quality care you expect because of who we are. We are a group of experienced professionals, who have spent nearly 20 years providing primary care to patients, including making home doctor visits.

During this time we have gained invaluable knowledge and developed significant ties with the local health care community. This includes relationships with local hospitals in case inpatient care is needed.

But besides being professionals, we are also residents of Michigan's Thumb who desire to provide the best possible medical care to our neighbors, and be a support to their families.

Because we have families and loved ones to care for ourselves, we understand the stress that finding the right healthcare solution can create – especially if the need for that care is urgent.

We understand, too, that the search for the right health care provider can be a long one, often yielding few if any good options for your own situation.

It's for this reason we formed Northview Medical House Calls.

It's our mission to provide our patients with the thorough, personal, medical care they need – all in the comfort and convenience of their own home.

In fulfilling this mission, we bring you the best that today's health care has to offer, and do it in a manner of compassion and concern that characterized days gone by.
